

THE CHURCH OF SCOTLAND
DALMENY AND QUEENSFERRY PARISHES

JOB DESCRIPTION

CHILDREN & FAMILY WORKER

Title of post: Children & Family Worker (part time), Dalmeny linked with Queensferry Church of Scotland Parish Churches

Responsible to: This is an appointment of the Dalmeny and Queensferry Kirk Sessions. You will be responsible to the Parish Minister of Dalmeny with Queensferry in the first instance.

Date: June 2022.

Part time hours: The appointment is for 24 hours per week (0.64 FTE). We are happy to consider other work patterns, including job sharing or part year working.

Main purpose of post:

The Dalmeny and Queensferry congregations seek an enthusiastic individual to develop and lead Children & Families ministry across the two parishes, as part of a team including the parish minister, elders and volunteers. The remit of the post builds on the work undertaken by previous postholders over a 10 year period. The role will focus both on sharing the good news of God's love with young people and families in Dalmeny and Queensferry, and on helping young people and their parents/carers to grow in their Christian faith and to strengthen their family life. The focus is primarily on children of primary and pre-school age and their parents and families.

Location:

Dalmeny and Queensferry are fast-growing communities a few miles north of Edinburgh, and within easy reach of Fife and central Scotland. The population of around 11,000 is anticipated to rise to nearly 20,000 over the next 5 years. Many young families make their home here, enjoying the sense of community and the excellent schools. The churches set a high priority on ministry to young people and families. This is an exciting time for our churches, as we rebuild from the pandemic and also look for new ways to engage with young people and their families. We are seeing many new opportunities to introduce young people and their families to Jesus, to support our local schools and nurseries, and to work with other local churches. The pandemic helped us to think creatively about using online as well as in person ministry, and we expect this to continue.

Management and support:

The postholder will be a member of a small team of paid ministers/leaders including a part time administrator. In the first instance, the Parish Minister will be the postholder's line manager. Designated elders will provide support to the postholder and be advocates for children and families ministry.

We provide a budget for professional development and attendance at relevant conferences etc, and will encourage the postholder to become part of support networks such as the Church of Scotland group for paid children/youth/families workers.

Duration of post: .

This post is a pivotal role in our church life and mission, for which we see a continuing and increasing need. The new postholder will be offered an initial term of 2 years, but with the possibility of extension following a review of ministries across our own and neighbouring parishes that are also growing rapidly.

Potential areas of responsibility:

The postholder will have some involvement in most or all of the following areas of activity, all of which will be supported by teams of volunteers. The nature and extent of involvement is open to negotiation, depending on the churches' needs and the postholder's gifts, experience and availability.

Existing base of church activities

- Leadership of regular activities including monthly Messy Church (shared with another local church), Sunday morning children's activities (with the opportunity to input to livestreamed all age Sunday worship alongside the Minister and other leaders), after school club/lunchtime SU groups, toddler/carer group, input to parent-led family home groups, annual summer holiday club

Community ministry

- Chaplaincy, including school assemblies and supporting the RME curriculum (often working with SU Scotland), at 3 primary schools and local nurseries
- Develop and lead new activities and groups to support family life in the community, working with existing community groups and other churches where appropriate

Develop support for young families

- Encourage and empower parents in their own spiritual growth and their role as the main spiritual nurturers of their children
- Work with others to provide pastoral and where appropriate practical support to families (including those with additional support needs, or experiencing poverty or social isolation)
- With the Minister and other leaders, find new ways to help our 'inherited church' congregations to continue to welcome and nurture young families and integrate them more fully into church life
- Develop, champion and lead or support fresh expressions of church that encourage young families to engage in worship and grow into a relationship with Jesus

Equip leaders

- Support and encourage church and uniformed organisation leaders in their work with children and families
- Develop innovative ways of finding, encouraging and training volunteers to lead and support existing and new initiatives

Specific job skills:

- Experienced in helping young people and their parents/carers to come to know Jesus as Lord and to grow in a relationship with him

- Ability to identify, equip and develop volunteers, and to foster an environment for creative thinking about new ways of building relationships and engaging with families and young people within a diverse, growing population
- Ability to work within a team, be an effective team member and demonstrate leadership skills in team situations
- Willingness to work in partnership with other local churches and denominations, and with national Christian organisations (e.g. SU Scotland and Care for the Family)
- Ability to facilitate small groups to help them plan and organise specific initiatives
- Ability to use appropriate IT applications (e.g. Microsoft Office Word, Outlook and Powerpoint)
- Ability to use a range of media (including social media, livestreaming and online meetings) to develop and deliver ministry online and in person
